

Full-Body Scan Agreement

A Full-Body Scan is intended to determine a person's overall wellness and identify areas of imbalance or illness, and provide an assessment of hundreds of factors that may be currently affecting your health or causing current health problems. They are not medical diagnostic procedures, and therefore do not diagnose medical conditions. Rather, they evaluate the perception of your body's autonomic control system with regard to the many internal functions and biochemical processes, and help to identify the physical, mental, and vibrational priorities in your health at this point in time.

A Full Body Scan is not a substitute for appropriate medical care, and it is recommended that you continue all medication and medical treatment as prescribed unless otherwise directed by the doctor who prescribed them. Improvement in your health resulting from better nutrition and overall wellness may result in a change in your requirement for any prescription medications, and monitoring of your medications by your medical doctor may be necessary.

I understand that if information is acquired that warrants it, an additional examination or a medical referral may be recommended.

I have read, or have had read to me, the statements and conditions listed above, and by signing below, I hereby agree to participate in this type of screening and agree to the terms and procedures set forth above.
